A gentleman. An inspiration. A friend. Dedicated. Considerate. Concerned. All aptly describe our housemaster. To Mr. B., who displayed such pride in our accomplishments, who chided us and encouraged us to attain our goals, who dedicated time and effort that we might develop into better people, we now make our dedication.

We proudly dedicate our '71 MIRROR to
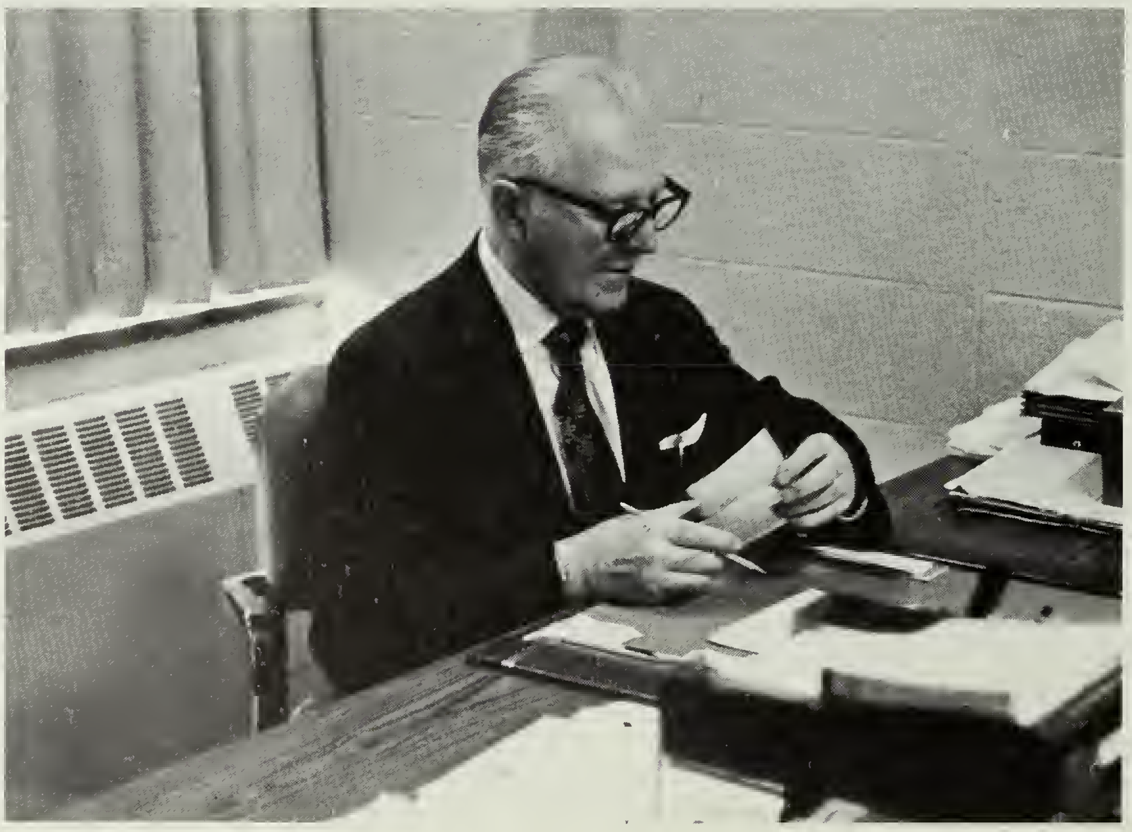
Mr. Gerard J. Belliveau

Dedication



Honorary Senior

Mrs. McCauley has been an integral part of our years at Waltham High. To any student in need she would offer sympathetic ears and a warm smile. Since she has been such a significant aspect of life here in high school, we wish to thank her and to show our gratitude.

We hereby name the class of 1971 honorary senior, Mrs. Barbara J. McCauley.

Look out world, here I come! Mrs. McCauley's winning smile has not changed.

In Memoriam

Edward D. May, Jr., teacher of mathematics, department chairman, director of summer school, and, finally, assistant principal, was a man of stern discipline and firm principle, tempered with understanding and compassion. To those who knew him well, Mr. May's incisive wit and quiet chuckle were a source of delight. We shall remember him for his keen interest in the developing programs at Waltham High School and for his constant loyalty to the school and its entire personnel.

Mr. James S. Fitzgerald
Superintendent

The Class of 1971 would like to offer a special word of thanks to retiring superintendent of schools, Mr. James Fitzgerald. For thirty years he has served ably, first as a classroom teacher, and then in various administrative posts. Above all, Mr. Fitzgerald should be particularly commended for providing the very best in education for the youth of Waltham.

Counseling helps the student to know himself better and thus become increasingly self-directed. In working with the individual students there are developmental situations—personal, social, educational and vocational, which need exploration and clarification. Here the counselor's role is to assist and support so that the student is more able to see alternatives, make choices and be accountable for his actions.

Mrs. Phyllis Law, Mrs. M. Constance Andrews

The Student Council

Student Council Officers

Sheila Castello (Corresponding Secretary), Ginny Faulstich (Recording Secretary), David Poldoian (Boys' Vice-President), Paul Parisi (President), Dotty Harris (Girls' Vice-President), Barbara Strom (Treasurer).

This Year, the Student Council has changed its structure and redefined its priorities so as to be a more cohesive and influential organization. Thirty Ward Representatives became members in place of the ninety Homeroom Representatives. The smaller Student Council facilitated direct communications between the Council and the student body. The Council also became more independent by the acquisition of a private office.
Strengthened by these changes, the Student Council broadened its goals in an attempt to truly represent the interests of the students. For the first time, the Student Council became involved with city politics as it attempted to insure the safety of all students by opening the secondary access road. The Council was successful in opening the cafeteria before school and in getting late buses for the high school. The Student Council and the Jaycees co-sponsored a "Walk for Mankind" which raised funds to benefit needy people in this country and abroad. The Council also worked for a modified Open Campus program. The achievements of this Student Council should form a strong base for continuing progress.

ART DEPARTMENT. Mr. Constance Segouras, Mr. Peter Nyren, Mr. Paul Shea (Director), Mrs. Julie Ann Blanchard.

Art Department

The goal of the art department is to broaden the student's understanding and appreciation of his environment by making it possible for him to see more. To achieve this goal, the art department presents a broad and varied offering to any student including history of art, drawing and painting, graphics, ceramic sculpture, and advanced art. Advanced art is offered in particular to the student who plans to make art or a related field his career. Allowing students to work at their own level in a relaxing atmosphere with excellent facilities and fewer pressures has resulted in an increased enrollment in this area.

Drama Department

DRAMA DEPARTMENT. There's no business like show business! Mr. Robert Eagle (Director), Mrs. Karen DeMauro

The drama department has given students an opportunity to succeed in an area where the traditional academic skills are not needed for achievement. Drama is not solely an art form; many of the skills entailed in acting can be used in other disciplines also. The increased enrollment in this area has demonstrated a need for specialized courses which are now being offered. This very young department hopes to continue to improve on the already fine facilities as well as to satisfy the students' demands for more productions both in the classes and on an extracurricular basis. The future offers distinct possibilities that many former graduates will return to work in this most enriching field.

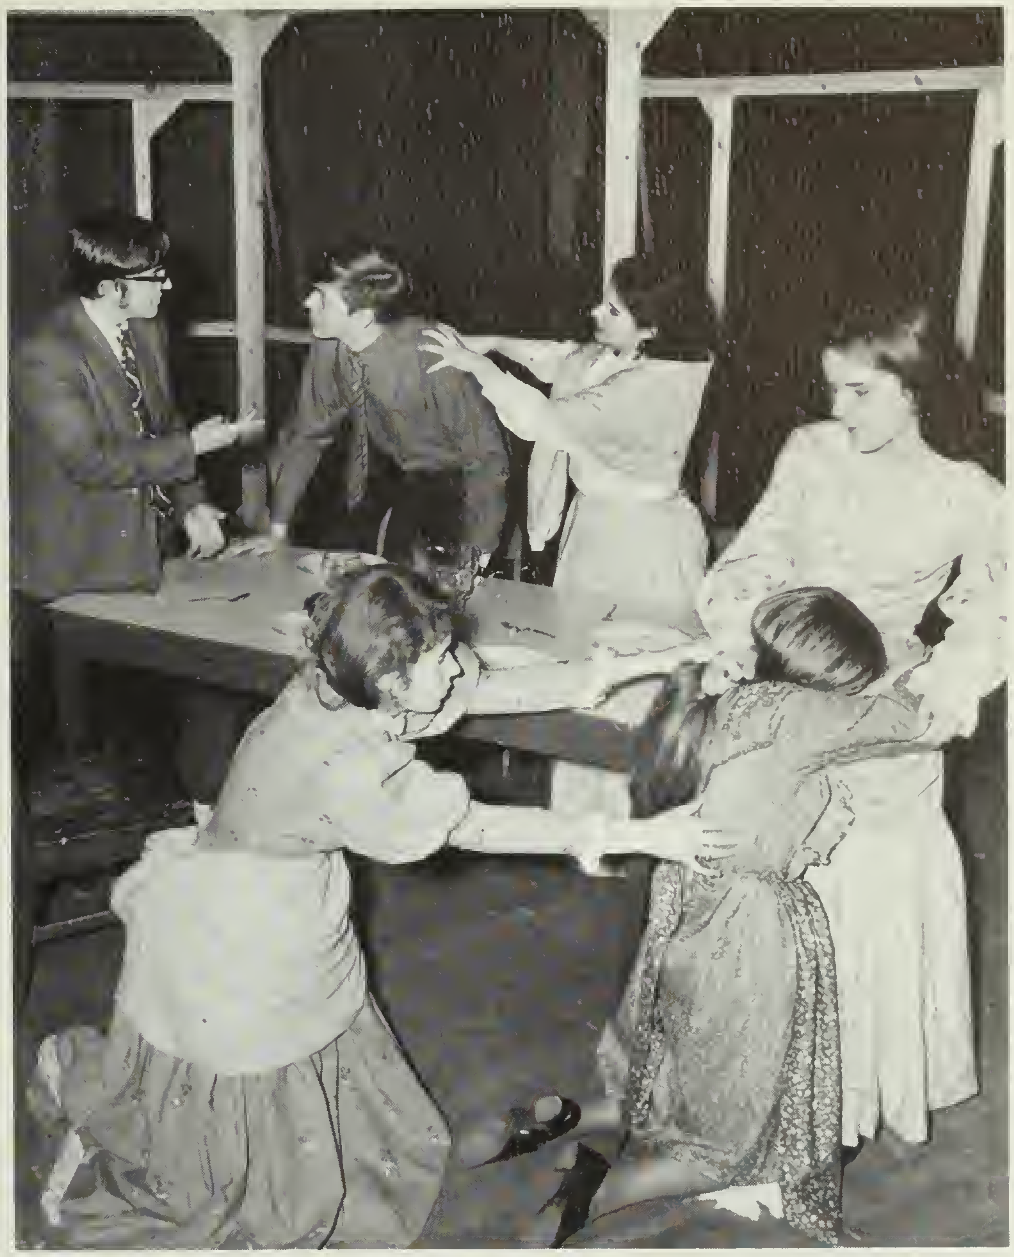
"Miracle Worker"

"You Devil!"



"She's testing you!"
Walter Bibikow (Captain Keller), David Duddy (James Keller), Regina Pacitti (Aunt Ev), Pam Gaudet (Kate Keller), Martha Meade (Helen Keller), Lois Conrad (Ann Sullivan)

One of the first productions of this school year was "The Miracle Worker" by William Gibson, depicting Helen Keller's life. Directed by Mrs. Karen DeMauro, the cast gave a very moving and sensitive performance which brought to light much unsuspected talent among the juniors and sophomores. Particularly exceptional were the convincing performances turned in by Lois Conrad and Martha Meade in the starring roles. For these reasons, "The Miracle Worker" was entered in competition for the Moss Hart Memorial Trophy.

Dancers Jan Procyk, Ginny Peros, Daphne Lowell, Bob Chadwick, Gilda Papia, Tom Devane, Karen Remal, Bill Clark, Donna Testa, Wayne Gullotti, Joanne Peros and Philip Hammond set up an interesting formation.

"Oklahoma"

Due to its immense popularity, the Reagle Players returned Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma" to the WHS stage in January. Many members of this year's class participated as dancers and singers while Pam Gaudet starred as the lovable Ado Annie. Once again, this versatile group thrilled the audience with their superb performance.

Kevin Scannell and John Vecchione locked in an intense struggle.

"I'm sorry! I'm dead I said to several people."

"Yes the air we breathe is foul," I said turning my smile to the next one."

"Interview"

The Human Communications Machine.

'Interview" written by Jean Claude Van Itallie and directed by Mrs. Karen DeMauro was this year's entry in the regional drama festival. This very difficult show dealt with a lack of communication between people. Though WHS did not place for the state finals, the cast did a commendable job as five people were elected to the All Star Regional Cast. They were Kathy Loughlin, Martha Meade, Pat Vanaria, David Duddy, and Allen Jacobs.

1971 Talent Show

This year's Talent Show was presented in a new format which proved quite popular. Under the guidance of Mr. Robert J. Eagle, students planned and rehearsed a wide variety of acts to compete for cash prizes. The 1971 Talent Show displayed some of the finest talents of WHS to a most appreciative audience.

"Pending Oblivion"

New York director, Ella Gerber, demonstrates an emotional memory with the assistance of actor Bob Clement for eager participants in the Arts VI drama program which ran for five weeks at WHS.

Fine points of dramatic acting are discussed by Brian Jones, Miss Gerber, and James Auld.

Title III/Arts VI

Title III/Arts VI is a federally funded program which brings various aspects of culture into area public schools. Many students had an opportunity to participate in the drama workshop given by famed New York Director, Ella Gerber. She brought her own group of actors who performed scenes while she presented many of the actual techniques used in the theatre. Ella Gerber succeeded most of all in communicating her very deep love for theatre to all her students.

Interested participants in the Arts VI drama program listen attentively to a demonstration by Miss Gerber.

The entire cast of "Anything Goes" belting out "Blow, Gabriel, Blow!"

"Anything Goes"

The spring production of the drama department was Cole Porter's 1934 musical comedy hit "Anything Goes". The play relates the zany adventures of passengers on the transatlantic cruise of the SS American, and displayed the multi-faceted talents of WHS students.

Lead, Pam Gaudet, surrounded by dancers, Karen Remal, Tim Smith, Larry Devlin, Brad Childs, Tom Saulnier, and Wayne Gullotti.

Music Department

The general objective of the music department is the pursuit of excellence in music education. This can be realized through their "flexible staffing." Many elementary music teachers have come to the high school as well to work in their areas of strength. Hardly any of the music staff is confined to one building. The department possesses several high quality instruments: a stereo set, an organ and a piano. A large number of students from Waltham go on to major in this area and many boys train for the service bands. A great deal of progress has been made in the music department the past four years through the cooperation from administrative offices.

Foreign Language Department

The Foreign Language Department aims to develop the four basic skills of the six different languages offered, and to help each student gain some understanding of the corresponding foreign culture. The department is very fortunate to have the first language laboratory in the country to incorporate recording cassettes remotely located from the student booth position. English as a foreign language is offered in grades seven through twelve. In the future, the department wishes to make more extensive use of audio-visual equipment and to extend its Russian program to more students.

English Department

Entering the seventies with a new chairman, Miss Krysiak, the English Department is using the established methods as a foundation to construct a relevant, more realistic curriculum. This plan which eventually may include the replacement of yearly courses by quarterly courses, the institution of an independent study program and the formulation of a close working relationship with other departments is now in the planning stage. This past year has seen the inclusion of many new titles on the reading list, books the students may identify with and enjoy. This is only the first of many steps designed to encourage widening perspectives and independent thinking.

Social Studies Department

As a result of the increased enrollment in history and social science classes, the social studies department is offering a wider variety of courses with more intense specialization. The department believes that better citizens can understand themselves better and make more intelligent decisions in today's world. This philosophy has given students the opportunity to be not only observers in man's history, but active participants as well.

Science Department

The ever widening field of science holds a certain fascination for WHS students. Particularly popular is the ungraded chemistry course in which students work independently. Science students are also fortunate to have the use of a modern planetarium. The science department is definitely doing its utmost to keep pace with today's growing technology.

Business Department

The business department is currently employing the new approach of "open curriculum" with great success. They now permit and even strongly recommend that the college bound student enroll in any one or more of the business courses. One third of the school population is presently pursuing business subjects under "open curriculum". The past year saw the installation of electronic calculators which are still a rarity in even the more modern offices. The business department aims to prepare the student fully for the business world by keeping one step ahead of this field of ever widening opportunities.

Home Economics

The main goal of the home economics department is to provide girls with the basic skills of an able homemaker in order that they might devote more time to understanding their families. The current year has seen greater implementation of audio-visual materials and outside speakers as well as an increasing enrollment in the boys chefs' classes. Future plans include more half-year, laboratory, and family living courses in addition to continued emphasis on consumer training. The home economics department has served not only the immediate school but the community as well by assisting with purchasing and hosting social events. The students are to be particularly commended for providing a large number of the costumes needed in the many drama productions.

Library Media Center

LIBRARIANS. Standing: Mrs. Lotte Blustein, Mrs. Frances Flynn. Seated: Mrs. Esther Wiley. Missing: Mrs. Eleanor Kilgore, Mrs. Mildred Nelson.

The primary aim of the library media center is to encourage individual reading and research. The librarians stress the importance of leisure reading as well as serious research. The library media center was instituted to serve both students and teachers working in conjunction with the curriculum. Two periods of orientation during sophomore year acquaint each student with the center and its general procedures. Non-print materials such as filmstrips, tapes, recordings, slides, and microfilms are available for use in the carrels. The media center has a wide range of reading materials: 13,000 books, 85 magazines, 10 foreign magazines and 10 newspapers.

Reading Department

The reading department's primary objective is to assist students in developing the essential reading skills by implementing special exercises and SRA equipment. The department was particularly designed to aid those students deficient in their reading ability. Mrs. Stone and Mr. Tyner have helped many students with the aid of a new machine, the shadowscope, to increase their reading speed and comprehension. A large number of students have significantly increased their college board examination scores from reading courses.

Title III - Arts VI

A large group of girls and several boys, including the football squad, had the chance to work with several top names in the field of dance. They learned not only the jargon common to dancers but became quite proficient at pirouettes and other basic steps. Even more of the student body was able to observe at the demonstrations put on by these expert dancers. Here Erin Martin, a member of the American Ballet Theatre, facing the class, conducts a series of warm-up exercises with her modern dance group.

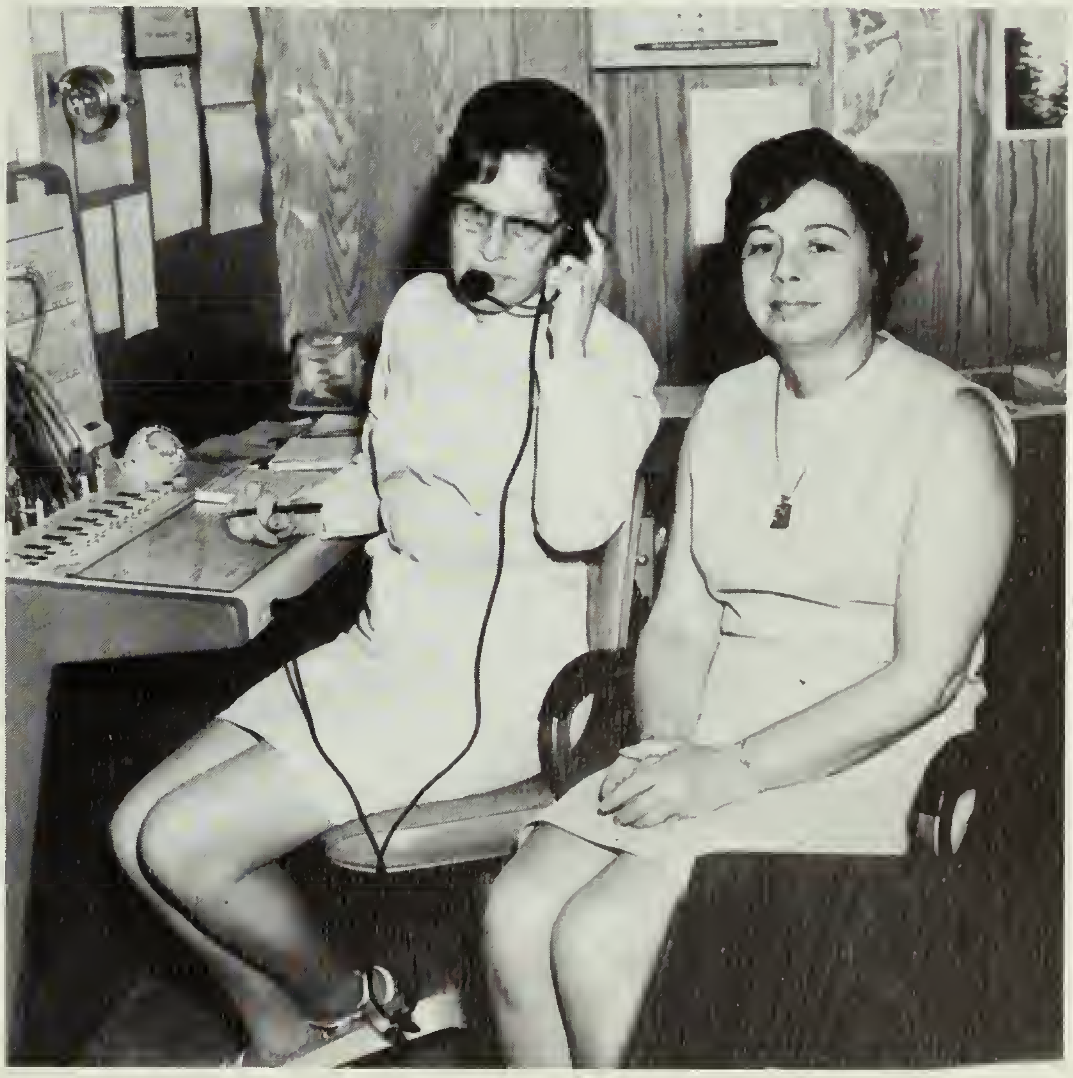
Service Staff

A school of this size certainly could not function without the efficient organization provided by the service staff. Mr. Peter Caliandro's cafeteria staff has served nutritious, yet reasonably-priced meals, while the custodial staff, under the direction of Mr. John Murphy, has enabled us to pursue our studies in a comfortable setting. Our sincere thanks to all these deserving people.



SWITCHBOARD OPERATORS. Always smilingly helpful, Mrs. Phyllis McDonald, Mrs. Rita Persuitte.

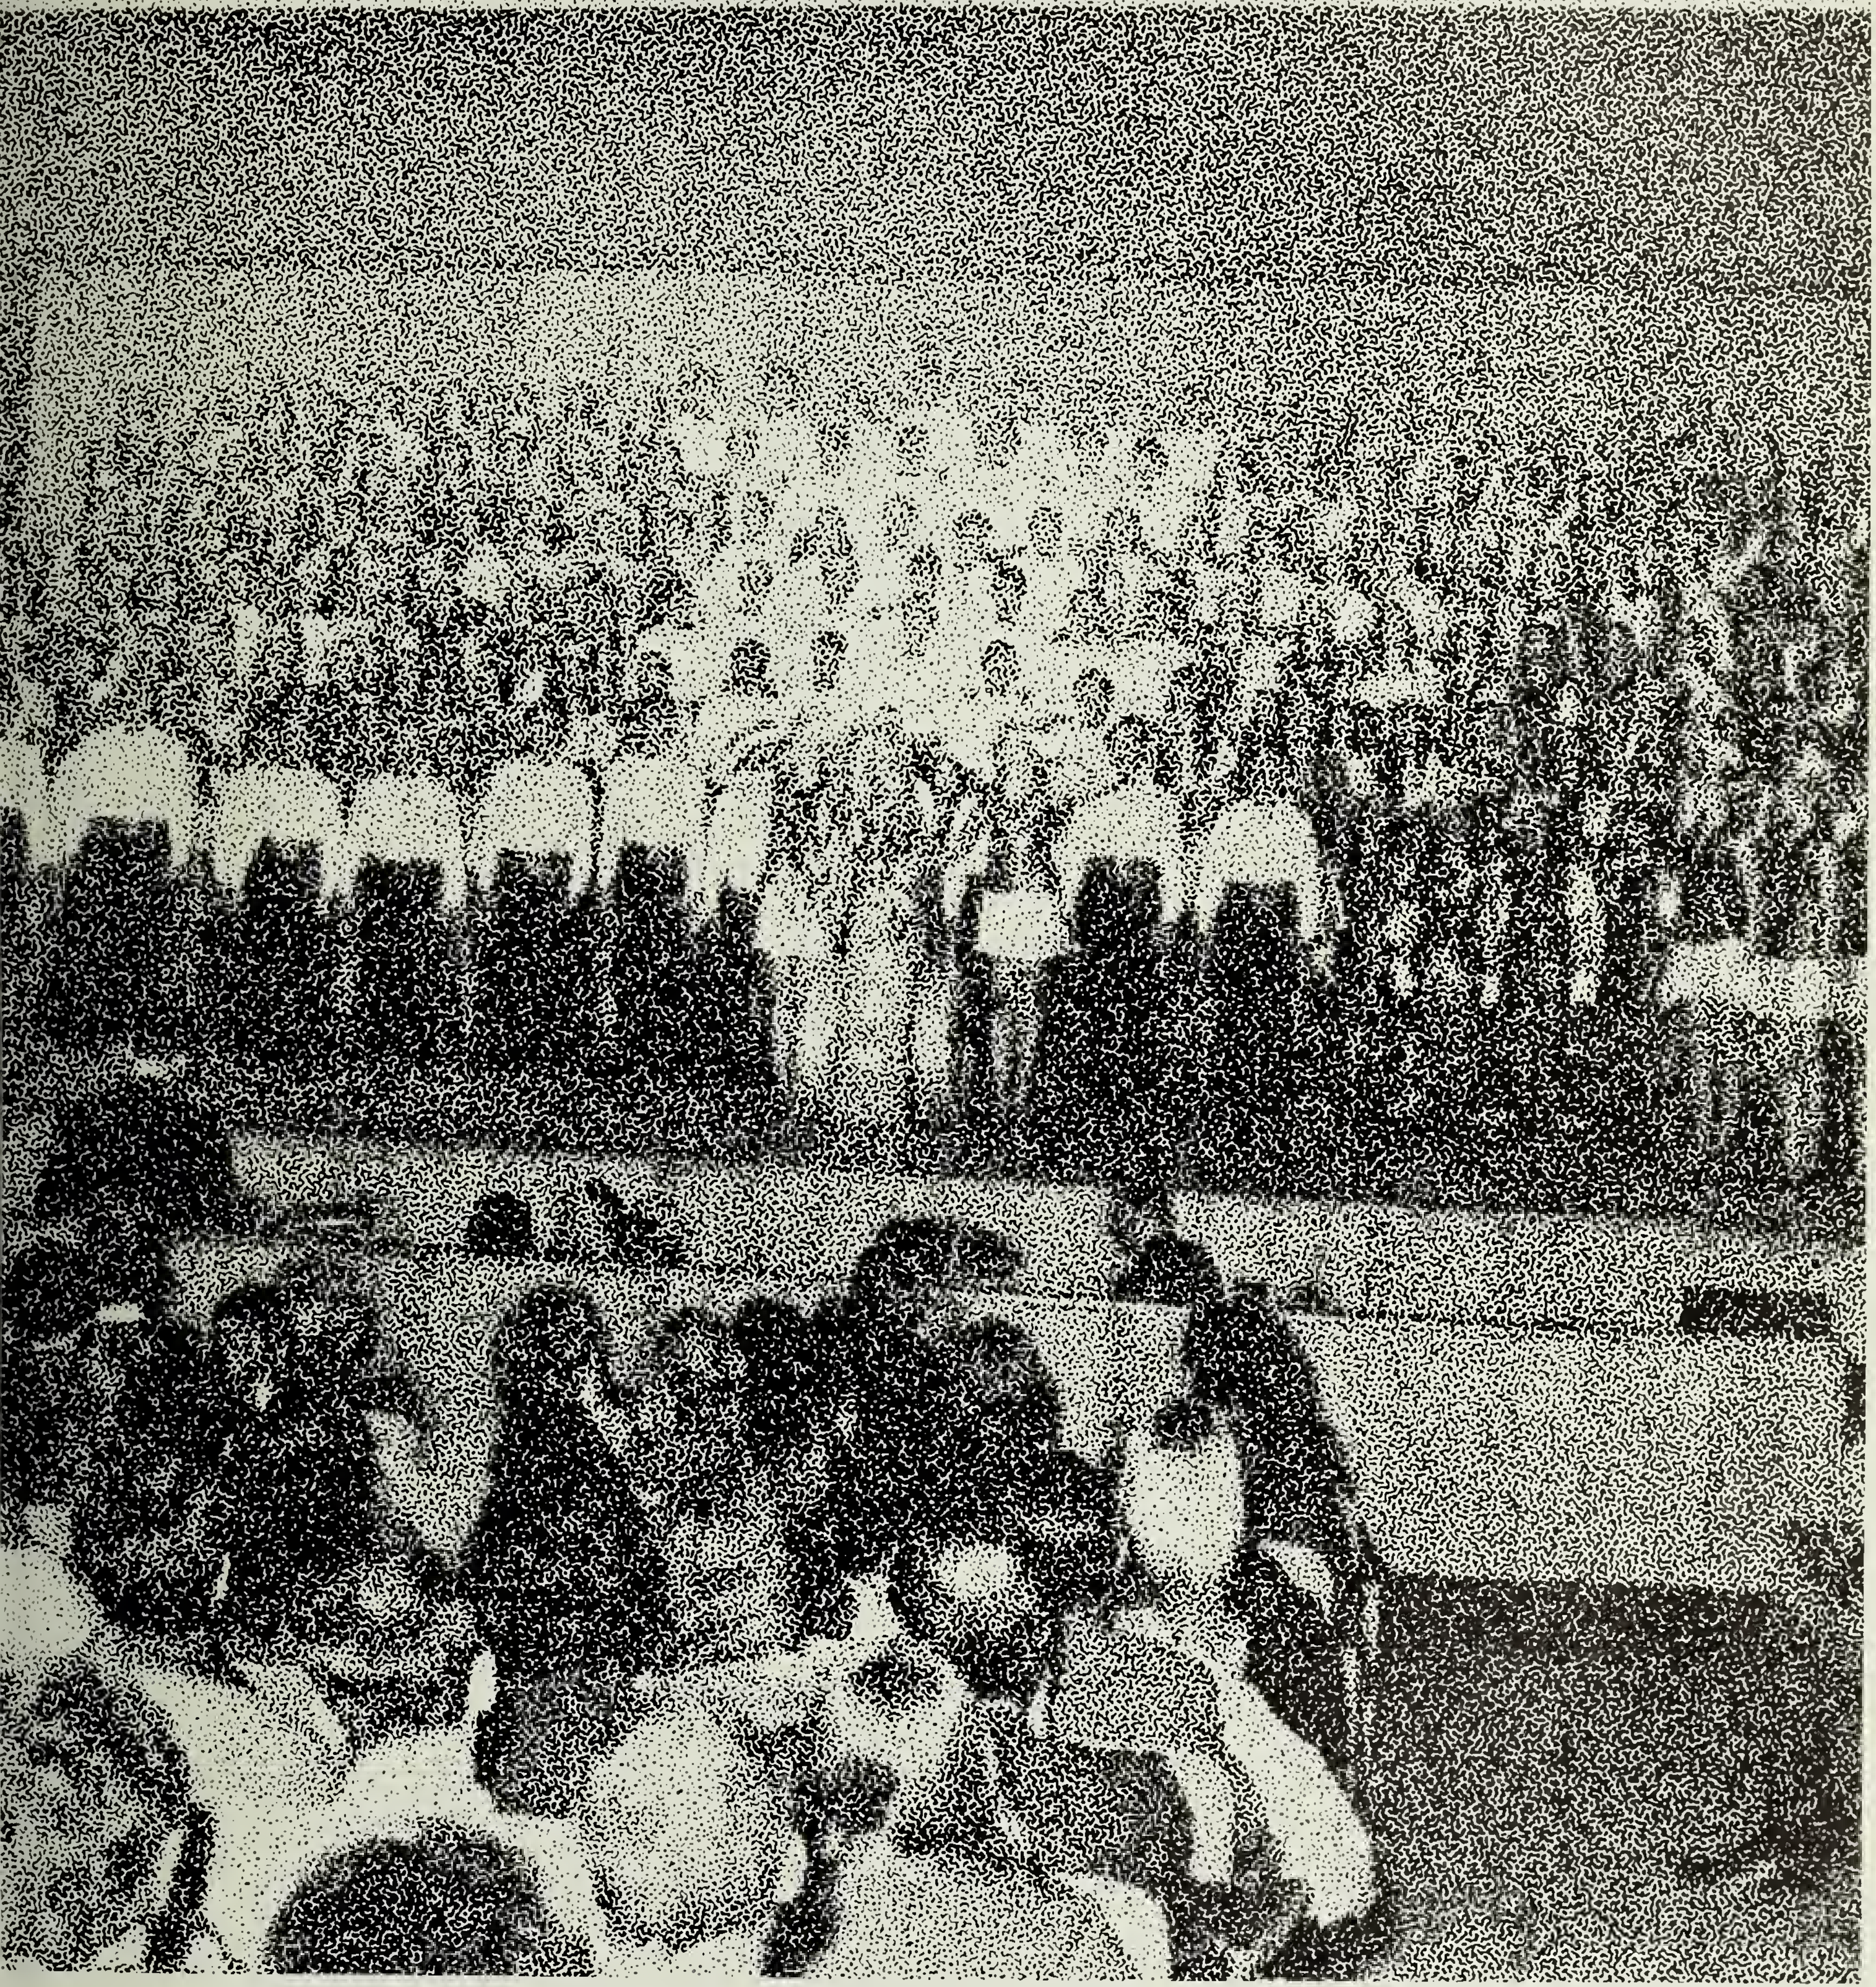
Our Year



Our Year

THE CIRCLE GAME

by JONI MITCHELL

Yesterday a child came out to wonder
Caught a dragonfly inside a jar
Fearful when the sky was full of thunder
And tearful at the falling of a star.
Then the child moved ten times round the seasons
Skated over ten clear frozen streams
Words like, when you're older, must appease him
And promises of someday make his dreams.
    And the seasons, they go round and round
    And the painted ponies go up and down
    We're captive on the carousel of time.
    We can't return, we can only look behind
    From where we came
    And go round and round and round
    In the circle game.

Sixteen springs and sixteen summers gone now
Cartwheels turn to cartwheels thru the town
And they tell him, take your time, it won't be long now
Till you drag your feet to slow the circles down.
    And the seasons, they go round and round
    And the painted ponies go up and down
    We're captive on the carousel of time.
    We can't return, we can only look behind
    From where we came
    And go round and round and round
    In the circle game.

So the years spin by and now the boy is twenty Though his dreams have lost some grandeur coming true
There'll be new dreams, maybe better dreams and plenty
Before the last revolving year is through.
    And the seasons, they go round and round
    And the painted ponies go up and down
    We're captive on the carousel of time.
    We can't return, we can only look behind
    From where we came
    And go round and round and round
    In the circle game.

In Memoriam

Susan Palmer

From YOU CAN'T GO HOME AGAIN

Something has spoken in the night . . .
And told me I shall die, I know not where.
Saying:
"To lose the earth you know, for greater knowing;
To lose the life you have for greater life;
To leave the friends you loved, for greater loving;
To find a land more kind than home, more large than earth—
Whereon the pillars of this earth are founded,
Toward which the conscience of the world is tending—
A wind is rising, and the rivers flow."

The rain fell silently
On a warm spring day.
It drummed upon umbrellas
And fell on childen still at play
Caught unaware by the suddenness of the storm.
Flowers stretched to receive
These tears of joy and strife.
I raised my face so's not to miss
This sign of tranquil life.
The rain splashed into puddles,
And myriads of streams flowed from within;
Down the streets and sidewalks
Farther, farther, farther away
To unknown destinies.
Many faces I have known
In years just now gone by.
Where or if I shall again
See these faces,
Remains to me a mystery,
For life has so many paths from which to choose.

ACTIVITIES: Italian Club 3, Senior Revue

It goes by so fast,
Many things happen,
Many things change,
Meeting new people,
Making new friends.
As sophomores we were frightened,
in a new school,
all alone,
Then as juniors,
in another new school,
but not afraid
we were now upperclassmen.
Now as seniors,
trying to make the right decisions,
trying to pick the right college,
where to go,
what to do,
wondering, puzzled.
After graduating, we're out on our own,
by ourselves,
all alone in this big world.

"The Road"

The travelers tell me of one rutted road winding its way up the steep hill.
At a certain place, it branches out into three forks.
The first road leads to the village.
Schools and factories, churches and taverns,
Men, women, and children
Preachers and drunkards,
Chimes and whistles,
Steam, dirt, hustle-bustle
Fast slow-motion.
Most people travel this road.
The second road, the travelers say,
leads nowhere.
So many times they warn those who travel it anyway.
The third road is the most inviting.
A tunnel of trees; sunlight streams through until the eye reaches into the dark.
Because of this darkness, few travel this road.
For fear of becoming lost.
Each road is difficult to travel.
Many give up the journey along the way.
But eventually those who struggle through Come upon a place where the roads converge
And become one again.
For at the end of these roads is the answer
To each man's dream.

the leaves fall and become brown and withered
they die
but the leaves
always come back.
cautiously at first afraid of being rejected again.
the hurt still fresh but they try they always try

Let us be like that try to make our bubble-dreams become reality and not be so sensitive to words
that can hurt so much.

Let's stay with our dreams hold onto them
but gently or the dreams will wither and die—
like the leaves.

The hallways filled with voices;
empty
The football field filled with joy, sadness, cheers;
empty
The auditorium filled with "Applause";
empty
The gymnasium filled with excitement, disappointments, and screaming;
empty
Crying, laughing, happiness, sadness, trying to hold on forever, but letting go . . . it's all over and now;
empty

DONNA TESTA

George Roy
43 Walnut Street
Business

Be a prayer.
A plea whispered in the dark by all who live and die.
Be peace.
A quiet, free peace that everyone yearns for.
Be a friend.
A loyal, thoughtful friend that we all hope to meet in our lives.
Be love.
A content, lasting love that life demands for existence.
But most of all,
Be yourself.
An individual that all can appreciate, respect and love.
And in this individualism we will find a prayer, peace,
a friend and love.

time is formed of pieces
each an ending
each a start
and morning
with only promises of blazing brightness finds us
standing beneath voices breaking over unaccustomed words
finds us
images of times and places we may still become and we who have just been awakened who have not yet become accustomed to the daylight
must take care
to listen to the softer voices and find our way
between the slogans and the headlines
a person is not molded cast or hidden by the ill-defined shadows but remains above the answers formed of fear
and morning
finds us each a person
each his own.

Senior Revue

Behind the rising curtain with an empty feeling in the pit of your stomach and a chill running up and down your back, you can scarcely believe the moment has arrived. All those eleven o'clock rehearsals, sore muscles and hoarse voices have come to this night and the Senior Revue, "our" Senior Revue. The colorful costumes, well-polished dance steps and the medley of high-spirited voices whirl by all too quickly. But you put your heart and soul into it and the audience feels this and their applause is endless. With the sadness of an end comes the warm inner glow of satisfaction for you know you now are worthy of being called the class of 1971.

Class Day

In near ninety degree temperatures several hundred almost-graduates marched to the music of the Crimson Band into a packed auditorium for the traditional Class Day exercises. Pam Gaudet served as Mistress of Ceremonies for the afternoon. A highlight of the chorale's selections was Pam Keye's solo of "We've Only Just Begun." Denise McCluskey was crowned Queen and her attendants were Carol Cianci, Beverly Jigargian, Carmella Malozzi and Carol Tousignant. A series of skits, "Try to Remember," directed by Jim Auld, brought nostalgia to an enthused audience. A great deal of comment was sparked by the announcement of senior superlatives. Two surprise awards were the presentation of Honorary Senior, Mrs. Barbara J. McCauley, secretary to the housemaster, and dedication of the yearbook to Mr. Gerard J. Belliveau, senior housemaster. Following the successful program, parents, faculty and friends gathered at a reception in the courtyard to offer their best wishes to the Class of 1971.

Graduation

In near-perfect summer weather the Class of 1971 gathered to mark a milestone in its career—graduation. On that evening it seemed hardly possible that twelve years had passed so fleetingly.

Yet at five-thirty, seven hundred and twenty-nine young adults dressed in the traditional maroon and white robes marched onto the Waltham High School Field to receive their diplomas individually.

The commencement address was given by the Reverend James F. Hawker of Our Lady Comforter of the Afflicted Church. Father Hawker challenged the graduates of 1971 to be aware of the importance of education in today's world as ". . . a personal, essential and never-ending process." He encouraged his listeners to foster a deep appreciation for education in whatever life-style they chose to follow, in the hopes of bettering the human condition.

As the graduates, somewhat awe-struck, marched off the field, there was a fervent hope that somehow we could do our part to make future classes accentuate the positive with us. There was also a little thrill at the realization that we had really just begun.

Class President Jim Olivo giving the address of welcome.

Housemasters Mr. Levey, Mr. Morang and Mr. Belliveau.

REFLECTIONS

Aimless winds, drifting; wandering,
Sending ripples across the water
Projecting the dazzling glow of the sea
As it begins to peek through the delicate mist.
For what you can see and feel
The scent of pine has entranced you,
Slowly drawing your attention to the foggy hollows between the trees;
Knowing that underneath, the tiny cranberry
With its blanket of mist-covered ferns
Is slowly being unfurled for the new day ahead.
Once again the constant alarm of the jay
Is shot out, piercing the stinging cool air,
As you slowly walk the beach
Following old footprints left from previous encounters,
Of those people who love the happy and solitary
Life of loving.
The cryptic force that makes the dawn the day
Is slowly pulling up its blinds
And once again the sun has reached its peak
Placidly spaced amongst the blue
All is perfect now; it is day.

TIMOTHY LEAHY

METAMORPHOSIS

pushed and pelted shaped and bent and molded
into a form alien to me

Beginning . . .
now creaking, straining, and peering out of my molded form and cautiously . . . slowly, yet anxiously reaching for what lies beyond

at this my beginning.

RITA HARDIMAN

DESIDERATA

Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story. Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism. Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. With all its shame, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

The Juniors have come a long way since the Sophomore year. The year was highlighted by the Junior Prom and other festive activities. The Juniors will remember it as the year of College Boards, "Temperance Essays," fire drills, and bomb scares. Now they look anxiously and sadly to September, and their last year at Waltham High School.

With Captain Gary Cardone as the only shooter back from the "70" team, which tied for first place in the Middlesex Scholastic Rifle League, the Hawks finished with a 6 win and 3 losses, which was good for a complete green team in 1971. The sharpshooters have had great success since their rifle range was built in the Kennedy Jr. High in 1960. With two New England championships, four league titles, all for 97 wins; the summary 6 wins—3 losses.

You're about to take a giant step forward into your future. We think we can make it the bright one you want it to be at New England Telephone. With a job that's every bit as big as your ambition. You see, we need people. With all kinds of talents. And especially, people who really want to get going with their future. And want to be rewarded with automatic raises. Your High School diploma is all the experience you need. If you want a job and a future that's tailored to your talent... along with unusually generous fringe benefits, stop in and see your guidance counselor. Ask when and where you can apply for an interview with the people who want to make your future as happy as you want it to be.

NOTHING IS IMPOSSIBLE

Nothing is Impossible,
Class of '71;
If man can walk upon the moon,
Then anything can be done.

Nothing is Impossible,
And peace will come to stay;
The future looks much brighter now,
Plan for it today.

Nothing is Impossible,
If you have the will to try;
No depths too deep to conquer,
No mountain top too high.

Nothing is Impossible,
You can achieve success;
What you have learned throughout the years,
Will help you meet the test.

Nothing is Impossible,
May knowledge light your way;
Good Luck to you, Class of '71,
As you graduate, today.

The future arrives sooner at Raytheon.

When you work at the forefront of technology, you work on "tomorrow" every day.

That's what we do at Raytheon. With amazing results. For example, Radarange® microwave ovens for the home. A miniature furnace the size of a two-pound coffee can. Motionless radars that "see" everywhere at once.

Our facilities stretch around the world. And our activities extend from space exploration to pollution control.

Raytheon. The company that makes things happen.
